“ *I've been struggling to find the words to write here. I find peace in knowing that you are no longer suffering, that you are healthy again, that you have your mind. I have so many memories of summers in Willow Grove and in Kentucky. Swimming in your pool, going to the horse park, attempting to golf with you and my brother, fishing on Grayson lake, riding 4wheelers, cooking lobster tails on the grill. I send all my love to my Grandmere, Uncle Danny, my brother John Jr, my half brothers Phil and Steven, and the grandchildren Morgen and Josie. Grandmere said to me last night that she pictures Grandpere with his arms wide open greeting you in heaven. And I thought that was beautiful. Rest easy, dad, I love you.
Your daughter, Michelle Benninghoff*

“ My brother was a quiet, soft-spoken, gentle man. As children and new immigrants, we became each other's best friend. He was the one I went to for advice on many of life's issues. I have so many fond memories of John and our father, Hans exploring nature. I want to acknowledge his four children: John Jr., Michelle, Phillip, and Stephen. I know he loved each of them in his own way and was proud of them. I also want to recognize his military service in the 82nd Airborne Division of the Army for which we are truly grateful. Along with my mother, Yvonne, my wife Denise and my son Kurt (Natalie) and all the extended family, we will always keep John in our thoughts and prayers. Although I can't be there, my heart is with you. Adieu, my brother. Danny Benninghoff

“ I have the fondest memories of our high school years. We were young and having fun, John and Sherre, Terry and me. We grew up together, shared our marriages and births of our babies together. The years have put distance between us all, but I will always remember the good person John Sr. was. His legacy of those early years will live on in his children, John Jr. and Michelle. Rest in peace my brother-in-law and friend. ~~~~~ Dianne Adams

“ My memory is related to his children, John and Michelle, my cousins. They loved their dad and cherished their time with him. May he rest knowing that they are here forever thinking of him and missing him.
