“ Some of my fondest high school memories were shared with Mike. He and I did everything together from our senior trip to Myrtle Beach to goofing off almost everyday shooting hoops at the YMCA. But the times I won't ever forget are the times I would spend the night with him and we would sneak out to Roberts office and sip on a little hooch and talk for hours. He always made me laugh and was constantly a cut up, but we talked about what things might be like when we were older too. These times were when a friend became a brother. After all these years ya know Mike still called me on my birthday. Who remembers their friends birthdays from high school. One. Spanky. I wish I could have one more night to sip on some hooch and talk to my best friend. I will miss you brother....and I love ya. -Steve Bush
